

Industry Brief: Mortgage and Real Estate

The mortgage and real estate industry traditionally has been very slow to adopt new technologies and as a result still relies on hand keying when it comes to processing lease agreements, deeds, and various other documents. Processing documents this way is a very time-consuming, unsecured, error-prone process. Deloitte estimates organizations that automate these routine tasks can increase their efficiency 4.5 times!¹ With ECMNOW! your organization can streamline document processing with our patented award-winning artificial intelligence (AI) engine that will improve productivity across the entire enterprise.

EFFICIENCY NOW!

- Eliminate time-wasting manual data entry by leveraging our AI engine to classify and extract data from contracts and other documents automatically.
- Cross-reference information effortlessly between line-of-business (LOB) applications and unify multiple systems.
- Apply Robotic Process Automation (RPA) to routine tasks to speed up document processing times.

CONTROL NOW!

- Protect personal financial information by enabling multiple layers of security, such as passwords, user controls, and encryption.
- Securely manage data to ensure compliance with federal regulations such as the Gramm-Leach Bliley Act (GLBA) and the Home Mortgage Disclose Act (HMDA).
- Setup automatic document routing and extraction to eliminate human error and improve data accuracy.

MONEY NOW!

- Decrease costs by enabling document processing 24/7/365 with RPA and intelligent automation (IA).
- Move documents to the cloud and eliminate hardware and IT costs to save money on operational expenses.
- Avoid costly fines with extensive security settings to ensure you maintain compliance with federal regulations.

"The implementation of automation and artificial intelligence can eliminate inefficiency inherent in many finance and accounting tasks—such as lease accounting and administration, invoice processing, and payroll management."
